Ladies, are you trying to find the strength to go on? Do you struggle with issues that are draining your energy? Loved ones using drugs or alcohol? Do you feel like you are just 'surviving' from one crisis to the next? Is 'drama' your addiction? Are you depressed? Angry? Can't stop worrying? Trying to get free of addictive behaviors? Are you addicted to a person or caught up in co-dependency? Suspect you may be an enabler? You are not alone!!

Overcomers Anonymous is a group of ladies who meet weekly to support one another through struggles like these. We are growing; becoming different each day by drawing from God's strength; depending on His power to love, to be at peace, to find meaning in life, and therein find joy! We welcome you to join us on the journey!
